WATSON RECORDS LINES ON TAPE

Minor Watson, who years ago appeared in stock shows at the Lyric theater here, plays an exacting role in the "TV Reader's Digest" drama, "A Matter of Life or Death," to be televised over ABC-TV, Monday night.

Watson creates the role of Dr. Sawyer, an eminent brain surgeon who is brought out of retirement to perform a delicate operation on the grandson of his lifelong enemy.

Filming of Watson's first scene at American National Studios was a lengthy and difficult soliloquy which the actor effected without an error on the first take.

Queried as to his secret in mastering long scenes, Watson replied that he memorized at home, then tape-recorded what he had learned. "In this way," he said, "I have the two-fold advantage of remembering my lines from visualizing them on the script pages, and the sound of my own voice as I recorded the speech or speeches.

"This recording method also helps me to achieve the proper light and shade in the reading of lines, and points up the passages which should be given special emphasis."

RADIO SHOW REVIVES HISTORIC SEA CLASH

The historic clash between two armored vessels that in one day outmoded all the world's navies is the subject of the "Inheritance" drama on NBC radio today (5 p.m.) under American Legion auspices.

Gil Braun's play, titled "Cheesebox on a Raft," recounts the story of the Civil War battle between the Monitor and the Merrimac in 1862. Col. Roane Waring, of Memphis, Tenn., past national commander of the American Legion, will speak briefly at the close of the dramatization.

SENATOR GOLDWATER TO 'MEET THE PRESS'

Senator Barry Goldwater (R., Ariz.), chairman of the Republican Campaign committee and the man who predicts the odds are against a Republican recapture of the Senate in 1956, will "Meet the Press" today (NBC-TV, 6 p.m., NBC radio, 10:30 p.m.).

Questioning him will be Lawrence Spivak, owner-producer and permanent panel member of "Meet the Press"; Jack Bell of Associated Press; Marquis Childs of United Features, and William S. White of the New York Times. Ned Brooks will moderate.
