FAURE LAUNCHES DRIVE FOR VOTES

PARIS, Dec. 4 — (AP) Premier Edgar Faure launched his election campaign this weekend on a platform calling for more stable government in France. Voting for a new National Assembly will take place Jan. 2.

The country, he told an audience in the Jura mountain town of Dole last night, can no longer stand the "abnormal system" under which cabinets change every few months.

"We must remedy at all costs," he said today at Lons-le-Saunier, "this ministerial instability which regularly makes a show of us before the world." France has had 21 cabinets under 14 different premiers in the 11 years since liberation.

Small crowds gave the premier a big hand, but there was some booing outside the movie theater where he spoke this morning. It came from followers of the tax reform movement led by Pierre Poujade.

Faure defended his decision to dissolve the Assembly and hold new elections after a short holiday-season campaign. In the parliamentary system of government, dissolution and new elections are the means of getting a decision from the voters when cabinet and Parliament disagree. But in France the voters almost never get the chance. It has happened only once before in the republic's history.

"It will be enough after this," the premier said, "that Parliament knows a dissolution is possible to make it hesitate before voting out the government. Moreover, I shall ask that the system be changed so that dissolution is automatic if a ministry is upset before it has lasted two years."

Under the present system, two cabinets have to be voted down by absolute majority of the Assembly within 18 months to make dissolution possible.

Town halls were thrown open today to encourage registration for the coming elections. Lists will not be closed until Saturday and anyone is eligible who will have reached the age of 21 by Jan. 1. Registration is compulsory, though no punishment is provided for those who don't bother.

MAKES BEST OPIUM

UNITED NATIONS, Dec. 4— (AP) Afghanistan has a new claim to fame. Afghan delegate Abdul Hakim told the General Assembly's CO-nation social committee his country produces the best opium in the world and asked for help in getting it listed as an exporter in the legitimate drug trade.

BINDING DOORS

Some doors are like a lot of people we know—always having troubles. Doors can stick and they can squeak. Sometimes they won't stay latched and sometimes they bind. The most usual symptom of a binding door is that it's hard to get closed all the way. It starts off moving nice and easy but then, just before it's closed, you have to give a hard push. Sometimes even a hard push isn't enough.

The cause of a binding door are the hinges. The hinge leafs are set into the edge of the door and into the door jamb. If they are set too deep, the edge of the door rubs up against the jamb and the door starts to bind. Each time this occurs it throws an undue strain on the hinges and eventually the hinge screws will pull loose. This cures the binding but also causes the door to stick.

About the easiest way to fix a binding door is to remove the hinge leaf from the jamb and insert a piece of cardboard under it. Do this on both the upper and lower hinge and then put back the screws. The chances are that the thickness of the cardboard will be sufficient to move the edge of the door far enough away from the jamb so that there will be no binding. If the cardboard under the jamb hinge leaf isn't sufficient, put another piece under the door edge hinge leaf.

You may find that as the door is moved away from the hinge jamb, the other edge may strike the latch jamb. What you do in this case is just sand or plane down the door edge until it closes easily.

NATIONALISTS CAPTURE RED CHINESE JUNKS

TAIPEI, Formosa, Dec. 4 (AP) —Chinese Nationalist comandos captured six fully laden Chinese communist supply junks in Formosa strait just off the mouth of the Min river Friday, the Nationalist Defense Ministry said today.

The supplies were confiscated and the crewmen were taken to the nearby Matsu islands for questioning, the ministry reported. Number of the crewmen was not disclosed.

The announcement said also two Nationalist guerilla patrol boats a brisk action with nine communist boats off the Min river mouth Friday night and sent the Red craft fleeing in the direction of the mainland.

The Nationalist' official Central News Agency said today Chinese Reds are building up the military strength of Pingtan island in Formosa strait to counter growing Nationalist strength on the Matsu islands.

Pingtan is 23 miles south of the White Dog islands, southernmost of the Matsu group, and 75 miles west of Formosa.

Central News said 30 pieces of artillery, including 122 mm and 155 mm guns, had been placed on Pingtan, apparently to harass Nationalist naval patrols.

The agency said also the Reds were using motorized junks and trucks to transport war supplies from Kwangtung to Fukien, mainland province opposite Formosa.
