

15-Year-Old Bee Tycoon To Be Guest On Allen Program

Great Array Of Talent Lined Up For Hobby Lobby Show; Andrea Leeds Set For Broadcast

A 15-year-old boy who is the president, general manager, majority stockholder and sole employe of a thriving New York corporation is the latest person of odd occupation who will be interviewed as the "Person You Didn't Expect To Meet" on Fred Allen's "Town Hall Tonight" Wednesday at 9 p. m. over WEAf.

The young tycoon is Erwin Firschein, founder of the Brooklyn Bee and Honey Co., Inc. His plant of 18 bee hives is located in a crowded areaway behind his apartment house, much to the dismay of his neighbors.

In addition to the "Person You Didn't Expect To Meet," Fred will present his famous satire on the news of the day, drama by the Mighty Allen Art Players, chit-chat with Portland Hoffa, and the final bit of evidence to prove that Jack Benny is an imposter, none other than Maxwell Stroud.

Hobbyists who build miniature merry-go-rounds for crippled children, debunk feats of strength, and collect firearms that have helped to make American history will be among Dave Elman's guests on Hobby Lobby in its broadcast over WJZ Wednesday, at 8:30 p. m.

John F. McCarthy of Seattle, Wash. will tell of his ambition to make a miniature merry-go-round for every major orthopedic hospital in America. At present he is in the process of completing one for the hospital at Warm Springs, Ga. His hipupian carousels measure 10 feet in diameter and seat six passengers.

Andrea Leeds, the Hollywood unknown who rose to stardom almost overnight when she appeared in "Stage Door," will be featured on the WABC Star Theatre Wednesday, at 9 p. m. Titled "On Stage, Please," the original radio drama is the story of a famous producer who builds an unknown girl to stardom only to encounter a series of complications when he falls in love with his find. Ken-ny Baker's solos will be "Beautiful Dreamer," by Stephen Foster, and "I Get Along Without You Very Well." Frances Langford will dramatize the song she just recorded for Decca, a number titled "Tears In My Inkwell." Her encore will be "Deep Purple."

"The public can be just as fun-
