

to Describe on Run onight

The delights of life on the run, or how to keep from slicing off your left ear while snaking around the curves at 60 per, will be described by NBC Announcer Bill Kephart when he visits the summer meeting of the Tin Can Tourists of the World, Inc., in session at Traverse, City, Mich., for a broadcast to be heard at 8:45 tonight through WMAQ.

The Tin Can Tourists, who travel on air contained in the tires floating their trailers over American highways, are assembled 500 strong for the Traverse City convention. Kephart will conduct two interviews—one with a Mrs. Dee of Avon Park, Fla., who has piloted her car up and down most of the highway grades in the nation while her 80-year-old aunt kept house in the trailer wagging behind.

Another interviewee is a Mrs. O'Toole, who hails by one-day stages from Seattle, Wash. Mrs. O'Toole is expected to give expert advice on how to keep pots and pans from flying out the trailer window, with a few added notes on keeping the ivy from creeping out the trailer smoke stack and cautions on the gentle art of making a fried egg stay off the ceiling when you hit "a thank-you-ma'am" on the back roads of South Dakota.
