

Gang Busters To Dramatize Story Of "Blonde Tigress"

Col. Schwarzkopf Will Bare Secrets Of Battle Of Wits Between Courageous Policewoman And Female Criminal

The concluding episode in the case of the "Blonde Tigress," in which a courageous police woman faced the famous female criminal in a desperate battle of wits, will be dramatized on Gang Busters, Saturday over WABC at 8 p. m.

A police official closely associated with the case will unfold details of the story to Gang Busters' Colonel H. Norman Schwarzkopf, former chief of the New Jersey State Police.

The little-known fact that Reno, Nev., was named after a Civil war general will be brought out by the Old Ranger during the Death Valley Days program, Saturday at 9:30 p. m. over WEAJ.

Jesse Lee Reno, a young West Point graduate fighting in Mexico, won the respect of two soldiers who later joined gold-seekers in Nevada. When Reno, having advanced to the rank of general, was killed in action, news of his death reached the two prospectors in a little eating-place out on the Nevada desert. The only action they could take in his honor was to name the place "Reno."

Uncle Ezra and company will be heard in the annual Thanksgiving celebration during the National Barn Dance Saturday at 9 p. m. over WJZ. Appropriate Turkey Day music will be furnished by Louise Massey and the Westerners, the Hoosier Hot Shots, Ann, Pat and Judy, the Maple City Four and Glenn Welty's orchestra. Joe Kelly is master of ceremonies.

Herbert Rubin, 17-year-old captain of cheer leaders at Erasmus high school, Brooklyn, with his entire cheering squad, will be a featured attraction on the Bright Idea club program Saturday at 10:30 a. m. over WEAJ.

Elbert K. Fretwell, only 15 years of age, but six feet, six inches tall, will tell juvenile radio listeners how he and his 11-year-old brother derive a substantial income selling a special kind of honey. Elbert is from Columbia university's Lincoln school. Also on this program will be a music prodigy, Gina Valenti, seven years old, who will play piano and accordion selections, and Ernest Engerer, regular member of the cast, who this week will answer queries on puppy training.

Peter Arno, one of America's best loved cartoonists and current swain of the glamorous Brenda Frazier, will bust a few gags with Milton Berle on Stop Me If You've Heard This One Saturday at 8:30 p. m. over WEAJ. Arno says this is the first time he's ever at-
