

Today's Radio Highlights

Kate Smith puts on the fashion dog in an interview with Countess Ilinska (Fira Benenson), just back with the latest fashion news from the war zone—WJSV, 12 noon.

North Carolina State College alumni: Fred Waring has written a new song for you—WRC, 7 p. m.

Col. L. Q. Stoopnagle has a slick invention for "The Man Who Came to Dinner"—WOL, 8 p. m.

Luther Adler of Elmer Rice's "Two On An Island," Richard Haydn, whose recitations on fish are so amusing, and film player Sylvia Sydney are Kate Smith's guests—WJSV, 8 p. m.

Alfred Wallenstein leads his Sinfonietta: Wenzel Mueller overture, Gernatis; variations in A flat major, Opus 35, Schubert; Gypsy Scenes, Infante—WOL, 8:30 p. m.

President Roosevelt addresses the farmers' groups throughout the country in observance of the seventh anniversary of his farm relief program. Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace and Postmaster General James A. Farley join the President at the White House, from which all three speeches originate—WJSV, WOL and WRC, 10 p. m.