

Ripley Salutes Navy Day With Stirring Sea Drama

Story Of John Paul Jones Included In Program;
Return Engagement Of Sensational Harmonica
Duo Features Pearce Program

A salute to Navy Day and a curtsy to crullers will be included in Bob Ripley's broadcast Friday at 10 p. m., on WABC. One of the major items on the program will be a stirring drama about the great American Naval hero, John Paul Jones.

That other aquatic sport, dunking, will be represented by a man who sells holes in doughnuts, a man who makes a ritual of daily doughnut eating and the world's champion dunking family. Appropriate music will be supplied by B. A. Rolfe and his orchestra with Vocalist Linda Lee.

Plech Brothers, sensational harmonica duo from Minneapolis, will highlight the Al Pearce program, Friday at 7:30 p. m., over WABC. Elmer Blurt on his weekly pursuit of business, goes duck hunting.

Nan Rae and Maude Davis, first introduced to radio by Kate Smith last spring, will return to the Kate Smith Hour as a regular comedy feature, beginning Friday at 8:00 p. m. over WABC.

In addition Kate will feature a fantasy based on the famous "Thief of Bagdad" story. Adapted from the revival of the screen story made famous by Douglas Fairbanks, the elder, "The Thief of Bagdad" will feature Rex Ingram, famous Negro actor, June Dupre and others.

"Song of Your Life," the Harry Salter program which has been heard Wednesdays moves to a more favorable spot on Friday, when it follows the news at 9:35 p. m., (EST) over WJZ. Featured on the first program in the new time will be one of vaudeville's greatest performers, Belle Baker, who will sing a song a fan remembered, the song of her life, "Welcome, Stranger," and a song composed by her son, Herbert.

Arch Oboler will direct Walter Huston and his actress wife, Nan Sunderland, in "Mr. and Mrs. Chump." This true story of two idealists who always fought valiantly for lost causes, is to be heard in the Everyman's theatre series over WJAF Friday at 9:30 p. m.

When the grid warriors of Notre Dame invaded Urbana, Ill., to meet the University of Illinois, Dick Bray will be at the WLW microphone to bring listeners a play-by-play description of the game, starting at 2:45 p. m. Dan Rice will handle "color" aspects of the contest.
