

Noted Soprano Will Be Guest On New Song Series Opening

Army Sergeants And Wives Will Meet On Battle Of The Sexes; Guests Named For We, The People

Dorothy Maynor, Negro soprano, appearing as guest artist on the opening program of the new "For America We Sing" series, Tuesday, will sing "The Last Rose of Summer" and "I'm Gonna Tell God All My Troubles" instead of Grieg's "I Love Thee" and "Roll Jordan Roll", previously announced.

The program, which also will feature Frank Munn, tenor, and an orchestra directed by Dr. Frank Black, will be heard at 7:30 p. m. over WJZ.

Proceeding on the theory that nobody can talk down an Army sergeant but his wife, Julia Sanderson and Frank Crumit have rounded up teams of four Army sergeants and their wives for a gala "Battle of the Sexes," Tuesday at 8 p. m. over WFAF.

As one Californian to several thousand others, Santa Monica born Virginia Verrill will salute the University of California at Los Angeles (UCLA) as one of the highlights of the "College Humor" program Tuesday at 9:30 over WFAF.

Carole Landis and her first movie fan; Clem McCarthy and three New York newsboys, and Gene Austin with his trusty piano will be among Burgess Meredith's guests on "We, The People," Tuesday, over WABC at 8 p. m.

Other guests will be Johannes Steel, noted commentator who was assigned to interview Rudolf Hess in Scotland; Christine Roberts, who wears advertisements on her knees, and Frank J. Tomaschofsky, an orphan, who is seeking a birth certificate so he can work in defense industries.

A 21-year-old University of Minnesota graduate, Edward F. Valentine, Jr., will get a nice commencement present from the Court of Missing Heirs Tuesday at 7 p. m. over WABC when the youth comes to New York to claim a $2,000 cash estate left him by his grandfather, the late Elmer Lutz, of Newark, N. J. The case was broadcast July 1 and thru friends, who heard the show, the youth was located a week later.
