

Man Who Makes Cement For Movie Stars On Heidt Show

Numerous Other Unusual People To Appear On
"Treasure Chest" Program Tuesday; Sailors
And Women On "Battle Of Sexes"

The man who makes the cement in which movie stars plant their feet at the Grauman's Chinese theatre in Hollywood is Gene Klossner and he'll tell all about his odd job as a guest on Horace Heidt's "Treasure Chest" over WEAJ Tuesday, at 8:30 p. m. (EST). Klossner has been present at every "footprinting" the theatre has held.

Others to be heard are Albert Marshall, swap shop owner; Cloyce Johnson, night manager and counter man at famed Hollywood drive-in; Mrs. Lorena Weaver, one of the first of the women conductors and motormen in Los Angeles; Evelyn Smith, former "strong woman" now employed at the Douglas Aircraft plant, and Harry Bernasconi, expert house mover.

Bluejackets and a women's organization that keeps them supplied with practical gifts will be on opposing sides in Walter O'Keefe's "Battle of the Sexes" Tuesday, WEAJ 9 p. m., (EST).

Another famous singing team has been formed.—Miss Duffy and Giovanni Martinelli.

Miss Duffey, who is Shirley Booth, will sing for Martinelli on the "Duffy's" program Tuesday, at 8:30 p. m. (EWT) over WEAJ when the Metropolitan opera star visits with Ed "Archie" Gardner, star of the show.

A hero of Guadalcanal who also participated in World War I will be guest of Ginny Simms on her "Johnny Presents" program, Tuesday, over WEAJ, 8 p. m., (EWT). He is Wilfred Jackson, 53-year-old Negro, first class ship's cook, decorated three times by the U. S. Navy. He was chef on the presidential yacht, "Mayflower," during the Harding administration.

Coast Guardsman Andy Seerest, trumpeter who played with Rudy Vallee, John Scott Trotter and other famous band leaders, will be another of Ginny's guests for this show. The third guest, as yet not announced, will join Jackson and Seerest in talking to mistress-of-ceremonies Simms and placing a telephone call to anyone, anywhere.

Henry Browton, who fled in a rowboat from the yacht where Arnold Jackson, wealthy playboy, was found stabbed to death will be brought to the bar of justice during "Famous Jury Trials" Tuesday, at 9 p. m., (EWT), over WEAJ.
