The never-say-die manhunter of the networks, Vera Vague, will try her tenacious charms on Frank Morgan when she visits the Music hall at 9 p. m. Thursday over WEAf. Morgan's regulars Lina Roma, Carmen Cavallaro and the rest also will hold their places on the program.

“Dinah Shore’s Open House” marks the spot where Groucho Marx finds the perpetual welcome mat. The zany comic makes his third appearance with Dinah this season at 8:30 p. m. Thursday over WEA.

Dinah and Grouch greet each other like long-lost friends and fast and funny repartee flies back and forth in an all-out attempt to beat the previous laugh record.

Bud Abbott and Lou Costello, those two madmen in search of a strait-jacket, air another session of hilarity over station WEAJ at 10 p. m. Thursday. Connie Haines, probably harking back to the last time Abbott and Costello acted logically, sings, "It's Been A Long, Long Time."

Richard Rogue, private detective played by Dick Powell of the screen, doesn't usually handle divorce cases, but he can't help falling for the pitiful story of the wronged wife which a Mrs. Harlow Burgess brings him, so he accepts her case. But, checking the evidence at hand, he finds that even a divorce case can lead to murder with a capital "M," in "Little Drops Of Rain" to be heard at 8:30 p. m. Thursday over station WOR.
