

Johnson And Elizabeth Scott Starring In 'You Came Along'

Van Johnson and Elizabeth Scott will co-star in "You Came Along," the romantic story of a returning flier, on the Radio Theatre at 9 p. m. Monday over CBS.

Van Johnson will be heard as Bob Collins, hero-flier who joins two buddies on a cross-country, bond selling tour. Their guide, designated by the Treasury department, is a beautiful blonde, I. V. Hitchkiss, played by Elizabeth Scott. Because Collins is suffering from a rare blood disease and has little time to live, he and his pals turn the tour into a fun-loving exploit.

Joan Davis starts the New Year with a clean slate and reluctantly renounces Andy Russell for the thrill of a new romance on "The Joan Davis Show" at 8:30 p. m. over CBS.

The Queen of Comedy comes to her great decision after having a heart to heart talk with rival Barbara Weatherby. Barbara wrangles an ice-skating date with Andy which makes Joanie realize that she's skating on thin ice where her handsome handiman is concerned. She resolves to forget him and seek love elsewhere.

Vox Pop will extend its visit to Washington, D. C., for a third broadcast on which Parks Johnson and Warren Hull will interview a selected group of workers in the world-famed city at 8 p. m. Monday over CBS.

The Vox Poppers will chat with the folks who receive little or no attention for their share of the big job, keeping the wheels of government turning smoothly, while congress and the federal executives hold the center of the stage in the glare of the spotlights.
